- (iv) This receivable originates from a loan that was converted into an investment in which the Bank has significant influence or control, as directed by the Government. However, due to the incomplete legal procedures for the Bank's equity contribution, this receivable does not yet meet the criteria to be recognized as an investment. In 2014, the Government issued a policy to liquidate the value of this investment and advised the banks financing the Project to restructure and reschedule the loans. The Bank had set aside provisions totaling VND 214,072 million.
- (v) In 2011, the PetroVietnam Finance Corporation - the entity consolidated into the Bank, made an investment in Certified Emission Reductions (CERs) with an initial investment value of VND 249,351 million. The Bank has made a provision of VND 221,769 million.
- (vi) This is an advance payment of excess dividends to the shareholders of the former Phuong Tay Commercial Joint Stock Bank, which will be offset by reserve funds from after-tax profits according to the restructuring plan for the period 2016-2020. The Bank has fully provisioned VND 47,755 million for this advance.
- (vii) This amount represents the value of overdue loans, which are being settled through the recovery of collateral in the form of a real estate project. However, the progress of this real estate project is delayed. Therefore, in 2014 and 2015, the Bank refunded the customer deposits previously paid to settle the previously pledged collateral. The Bank made a provision of VND 233,184 million for this receivable.
- (viii) The Bank sold several loans of certain customers to partners, with the sale amount equal to the principal and interest outstanding of the loan at the time the debt sale agreement was signed. The debt purchase amount is paid, according to the schedule specified in the debt sale agreement. The sold loans are secured by the purchaser's right to collect the debt from the loans, and the Bank is also authorized to manage the debt and collateral from the purchaser. In addition, the purchaser must pay interest on overdue payments for the unpaid portion of the purchased debt. As of the date of preparation of these financial statements, the partners have paid a total of VND 9,702,565 million (including VND 7,928,972 million for the sold debt and VND 1,773,593 million for overdue interest).

39 . Risk management policies relating to financial instruments

The Bank's objective is maintain a healthy financial position. Hence, the using of financial instruments, including customer deposits and investments in high quality financial assets, is critical for the Bank to achieve required interest margin. From risk management perspective, the Bank is required to maintain balance between off-statement of financial position items (such as guarantees and letters of credit) and credits (loans in VND and foreign currencies) to individuals and organizations which have different creditworthiness. In addition, the Bank also invested part of its mobilized funds in securities or loans to other credit institutions. The foreign currency risks and interest rate risks have been managed simultaneously by applying position limits in order to reduce risk concentration and participating in activities with opposite balancing impacts to minimize risks. Holding high quality financial instruments helps the Bank to manage significant risks in its operating activities and ensure its solvency.

For credit risk management purpose, the Bank has used their credit management manual providing regulations and requirements for lending and guidance to standardize the lending activities at the Bank. Liquidity risk is limited by keeping a large amount of cash and cash equivalents in form of Nostro account, term deposits at the State Bank of Vietnam and other credit institutions and valuable papers. Risk-adjusted prudent ratios are also used in liquidity risk management. The Bank often revalues the interest rate gap and compares to benchmarks of domestic and foreign markets on a regular basis in order to able to timely adapt with unforeseen movements.

40 . Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that the Bank will incur a financial loss because its customers or counterparties fail to discharge their contractual obligations. The Bank has established appropriate credit policies and regularly executed credit review to assess whether the Bank has credit risk exposure.

To manage signal risks during the year, the Bank has built a centralized governance model at the Owners' Association in the activities of verification, re-identification, valuation and approval of loans and debt management. At the same time, the Bank has also built general regulations on system documents to manage risks based on the regulations of the State Bank and the Bank's internal risk management orientation.

Currently, in addition to regularly adjusting and updating internal models and regulations to suit the credit operations situation at the Bank, the Bank continues to upgrade and perfect the Internal Credit Rating System model in the coming time.

The Bank's financial assets that are not overdue or have not been impaired include Group 1 debts as prescribed in Circular 31; securities; receivables and other financial assets that are not overdue and do not require provisions as prescribed in Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated 08 August 2019. The Bank assesses that the Bank is fully capable of fully and timely recovering these financial assets in the future.

41 . Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Bank will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. Liquidity risk arises because of the possibility that the Bank might be unable to meet their payment obligations when they fall due under both normal and stressed circumstances. To limit this risk, the management has arranged diversified funding sources in addition to their core deposit base, and adopted a policy of managing assets with liquidity in mind and of monitoring future cash flows and liquidity on a daily basis. This incorporates an assessment of expected cash flows and the availability of high grade collateral which could be used to secure additional funding if required.

The maturity term of assets and liabilities represents the remaining period of assets and liabilities as calculated from the end of the year to the time of settlements as stipulated in contracts or in issuance terms and conditions.

The following assumptions and conditions are applied in the analysis of overdue status of the Bank's assets and liabilities:

- Deposits at the SBV are classified as demand deposits which include compulsory deposits, including compulsory reserves. The balance of compulsory deposits depends on the proportion and terms of the Bank's customer deposits.
- The maturity date of trading securities is based on the maturity date on the contract or maturity date according to the maximum holding time specified by the Bank, whichever comes first.
- The maturity of investment securities is a debt security calculated based on the maturity date of each type of security. Government bonds, Government-guaranteed bonds, and local government bonds are classified as having a maturity of less than 1 month because they are highly liquid assets that can be converted into cash in a short period of time with little risk of change in value.
- The maturity of equity contributions is classified as over 5 years because these investments do not have a specified maturity date.
- The maturity term of balances with and loans to other credit institutions; and loans to customers are determined on the maturity date as stipulated in contracts. The actual maturity term may be altered because loan contracts may be extended.
- Government and State debt; deposits and loans from other credit institutions; customer deposits; financed capital, investment trusts, loans to credit institutions at risk and issuance of valuable papers are determined based on the nature of these amounts or the maturity date on the contract. Vostro account and demand deposits are transacted as required by customers, and therefore, being classified as current accounts. The maturity term of borrowings and term deposits is determined based on the maturity date in contracts. In fact, these amounts may be rotated, and therefore, they last beyond the original maturity date.

- The maturity term of fixed assets is determined on the remaining useful life of assets.
- The maturity of assets and other liabilities is calculated from the end of the fiscal year until payment as stipulated in the contract.

The analysis table of assets and capital sources by actual maturity as of 30 June 2026 is as follows:

42 . Interest risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates.

The Board of Management periodically reviews the Bank's potential risks in the context of the current economic and business conditions, focusing on interest rate risk in the banking book and market risk in the trading book. Board of Management relates structure of assets and liabilities to funding mismatches and interest rate fluctuation risks and ensures compliance with the Bank's internal ratios, limits and guidelines.

The Bank managed the interest rate risks in the Banking book by analyzing the effective interest rate re-pricing term for its assets and liabilities.

The effective interest rate re-pricing term of assets and liabilities is the remaining period from the end of the year to the latest interest rate re-pricing term.

The following assumptions and conditions are applied in the analysis of effective interest rate re-pricing term of the Bank's assets and liabilities:

- Cash, investment securities are equity securities; capital contributions, long-term investments and other assets (including fixed assets and other assets, excluding investment trusts, interest receivable from credit activities) are classified as non-interest bearing items.
- Deposits with the State Bank of Vietnam are classified as Unaffected by interest rate repricing.
- The interest rate repricing period of trading securities and investment securities that are debt securities is calculated based on the remaining payment/maturity period according to the contract at the time of preparing the financial statement if the securities have a fixed interest rate or based on the interest rate repricing period according to the contract if the securities have a floating interest rate
- The effective interest re-pricing term of balances with and loans to other credit institutions; loans to customers due to the Government and the SBV; deposits and borrowings from other credit institutions; deposits from customers; borrowings at risk of credit institution and valuable papers issued are determined as follows:
 - Items which bear fixed interest rate during the contractual term: The effective interest re-pricing term is determined based on the time to maturity from the end of the year.
 - Items which bear floating interest rate: The effective interest re-pricing term is determined based on the time to the nearest interest rate re-pricing date from the the end of the year.
