Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in exchange rates.

The Board of Directors believes that the effects due to fluctuations in exchange rates on profit after tax and owner's equity of the Company are unremarkable since its foreign currency denominated net debts carry low values.

As at the balance sheet date, with the assumption that other variables were constant, if the interest rates of VND denominated loans at floating interest rates increase/decrease by 2%, the profit before tax and owner's equity of the previous period will decrease/increase by VND 0 (the same period of previous year: decreased/increased by VND 60.000.000).

Method of fair value determination of financial assets and liabilities

Fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities of the Company are reflected at the values which the financial instruments can be converted in a current transaction among parties having adequate knowledge and expecting to involve in the transaction.

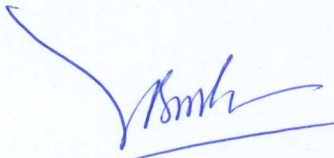

The Company has applied the following method and assumption to estimate the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities:

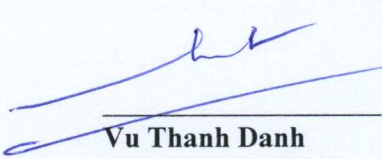

- Fair values of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, other receivables, borrowings, trade payables and other current liabilities are equivalent to their carrying values (already excluded estimation of doubtful debts) since these instruments have short-term periods.
- Fair values of held-to-maturity investments and available-for-sale financial assets which have been listed in stock market are the prices disclosed as at the balance sheet date. Fair values of held-to-maturity investments and available-for-sale financial assets which have not been listed in the stock market but had transaction prices disclosed by 03 stock companies are the average price computed based on transaction prices disclosed by 03 stock companies.
- Fair values of trade receivables, other receivables, borrowings, trade payables, other payables, held-to-maturity investments which have not been listed in the stock market or had transaction prices disclosed by 03 stock companies are estimated by discounting cash flows at the current interest rate applied to the loans having similar features and due dates.

The Company has not made any official assessment on the available-for-sale financial assets which have not been listed in the stock market and not had transaction prices disclosed by 03 stock companies. However, the Board of Directors believes that there is no material difference between fair values of these financial assets and their carrying values.
