Expenses incurred that are related to the results of manufacturing and business activities over multiple accounting periods are recorded as prepaid expenses to be gradually allocated to the results of business activities in the subsequent accounting periods.

12. Principles of accounting for liabilities.

Liabilities are amounts payable to suppliers and others. Liabilities include trade payables, internal payables and other payables. Liabilities are not recognized at an amount lower than the actual

13. Principles for recording loans and finance lease liabilities.

Loans are monitored on an individual basis for each lending entity, each loan agreement, and the repayment terms associated with the loans.

14. Principles for recording and capitalizing borrowing costs.

Borrowing costs include interest and other costs incurred in direct connection with the borrowings.

Borrowing costs are recognized as manufacturing and business expenses in the year they are incurred, except for borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the construction or production of unfinished assets. These costs are capitalized as part of the asset's value when they meet all the conditions outlined in Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 16 "Borrowing Costs." Additionally, for specific loans used to finance the construction of fixed assets or investment properties, borrowing interest is capitalized even if the construction period is less than 12 months.

15. Principles of recording payable expenses.

The Company's payable expenses include interest expenses that have been incurred during the reporting period but remain unpaid due to the absence of invoices or insufficient accounting records and documents. These expenses are recorded in the manufacturing and business expenses of the reporting period.

16. Principles and methods of recording payable provisions.

17. Principles of recording deferred revenue.

18. Principles of recording convertible bonds.

19. Principles of recording owner's equity:

Owner's equity is recorded based on the actual capital contributed by the holder.

- Principles of recording equity contributions, equity surplus, convertible bond options, and other capital contributions of the owner.

Equity surplus represents the difference between the par value of shares, the direct costs associated with the issuance of shares, and the issuance price of the shares (including cases involving the reissuance of treasury shares). It can result in a positive surplus if the issuance price exceeds the par value and related issuance costs, or a negative surplus if the issuance price is lower than the par value and direct costs associated with the issuance.

- Principles for recording asset revaluation differences.

- Principles for recording exchange rate differences.

- Principles for recording undistributed profits.

20. Principles and methods of revenue recognition:

Revenue is recognized when the Company is able to receive economic benefits that can be reliably measured. It is determined based on the fair value of the amounts received or to be received, after deducting trade discounts, sales discounts, and sales returns.

- Sales revenue;

Sales revenue is recognized when all of the following conditions are met: (i) The Company has transferred the majority of risks and benefits associated with ownership of the products or goods to the buyer; (ii) The Company no longer reserve the rights

- Revenue from rendering of services;

Revenue from a service provision transaction is recognized when the outcome of that transaction can be reliably determined. The outcome is determined when all of the following conditions are met: (i) Revenue is generated from

- Financial operations revenue;

- Construction contract revenue;

- Others.

21. Principles of accounting for revenue deductions.

22. Principles of accounting for cost of goods sold.

23. Principles of accounting for financial expenses.

2. Principles for determining the value of each type of asset and liability (according to net realizable value, recoverable value, fair value, current value, current price, etc.)

3. Principles for financial management of:

- Provisions;

- Differences in revaluation of assets and exchange rate differences (presented in the Balance Sheet - if any).
