5. Risks:

5.1 Economic Risks

In an open and globally integrated economy, risks and risk contagion are inevitable. Any market—whether developed, emerging, or frontier—is subject to these economic factors.

In general, economic risk refers to the probability of adverse changes in macroeconomic conditions, such as Gross Domestic Product (GDP), Inflation rates, Interest rates, Exchange rates, Trade balances. These factors can negatively impact business operations and investment performance. As economies become more interconnected, risk contagion spreads more rapidly and amplifies economic fluctuations. As an active participant in the financial ecosystem, Hanoi Re is inevitably affected by macroeconomic changes and must continuously monitor and adapt to evolving economic conditions.

a. Interest Rate Risk

For businesses, interest rate risk arises when borrowing costs exceed profitability, and its impact varies across industries depending on their debt structures.

In the insurance sector, fluctuations in interest rates can lead to changes in asset values, significantly affecting:

- Income from deposits and bonds in the company's investment portfolio
- Stock market volatility, impacting the company's financial investment returns

As of December 31, 2024, Hanoi Re's financial investments totaled VND 3.173 trillion, accounting for 47.35% of total assets, primarily allocated to term deposits, bonds, and equity investments. The company faces the risk of reduced investment efficiency if deposit interest rates decline sharply in the future.

On the liabilities side, interest rate fluctuations affect:

- Future debt obligations to policyholders
- Financial borrowing plans, where rising interest rates increase financing costs

Given the significant influence of interest rates on business strategy, revenue, and financial costs, Hanoi Re closely monitors market trends to develop investment strategies that are effective, secure, and compliant with regulations.

Hanoi Re's Interest Rate Risk Management Strategies:

- Analyzing market competition at the time of investment to secure favorable interest rates.
- Implementing risk-adjusted return frameworks to determine the expected interest rates for investment products

b. Credit Risk

Hanoi Re faces credit risk from both its reinsurance operations (primarily accounts receivable from customers) and financial investment activities (primarily bank deposits, bonds, and other financial instruments).

- Credit Risk in Reinsurance Operations:

The risk of customers failing to pay reinsurance premiums as per the contractual terms and payment schedules (when Hanoi Re is the reinsurer). The risk of retrocession partners failing to settle claims in full and on time (when Hanoi Re cedes reinsurance)

- Credit Risk in Financial Investments:

Counterparty risk from banks failing to meet financial commitments, late payments, or insolvency. Investment risk due to a decline in the value of financial assets caused by poor performance of investment partners. Credit Risk Management Strategies. Hanoi Re mitigates credit risk by Establishing, classifying, and periodically reviewing a list of approved reinsurance counterparties, Screening and monitoring the financial health of banks, investment firms, and credit institutions before placing funds.

A downgrade in Hanoi Re's international credit rating due to poor business performance could also pose reputational and financial risks. However, Hanoi Re has consistently improved its credit rating:

2019: A.M. Best upgraded Hanoi Re's Financial Strength Rating (FSR) from B+ to B++ (Good) and Issuer Credit Rating (ICR) from bbb- to bbb (Adequate) with a Stable outlook

2024: Hanoi Re maintained its B++ rating, while its ICR outlook was upgraded from Stable to Positive, reflecting strong financial performance and risk management

c. Foreign Exchange Risk

Foreign exchange (FX) risk arises from adverse exchange rate fluctuations that impact the company's foreign currency-denominated accounts.

For Hanoi Re, FX risk primarily affects reinsurance transactions, where exchange rate differences may create financial disadvantages if there is a mismatch in currency terms between Incoming reinsurance premiums (assumed reinsurance contracts), Outgoing reinsurance payments (ceded reinsurance contracts).

Significant exchange rate volatility can also impact the revaluation of foreign currency assets and liabilities, leading to foreign exchange gains or losses, which directly affect the company's financial performance.

d. Liquidity Risk

The goal of liquidity risk management is to ensure that Hanoi Re has sufficient capital to meet its current and future financial obligations.

Liquidity risk may arise when the company's investment portfolio faces challenges, such as Low liquidity of investment assets, making it difficult to convert them into cash, Market conditions causing lower-than-expected asset liquidation values.

Hanoi Re actively manages liquidity by maintaining a controlled surplus between maturing liabilities and assets within a predictable range based on projected cash flows.

Liquidity Risk Management Strategies: Regularly monitor current and projected liquidity needs to ensure Hanoi Re maintains Adequate cash reserves, Sufficient committed capital from shareholders, Ensure compliance with liquidity regulations, covering both short-term and long-term liquidity requirements.

5.2 Legal Risk

The stability and consistency of the legal system directly impact Hanoi Re's business operations, as well as those of other enterprises. Legal risk arises from potential violations of legal regulations during business activities.

Hanoi Re faces legal risks in the following areas:

- Non-compliance or failure to timely update and adhere to amendments in laws governing the reinsurance sector and related regulations
- Disputes with clients and reinsurance partners regarding assumed or ceded reinsurance contracts.

To mitigate these risks, Hanoi Re:

- Regularly updates and revises internal policies, procedures, and compliance frameworks to align with legal requirements
- Provides continuous legal and compliance training for all employees.

By proactively monitoring and adapting to legal changes, Hanoi Re ensures regulatory compliance and minimizes legal uncertainties in its operations.

Additionally, the company is subject to and influenced by various legal frameworks, including the Enterprise Law, the Insurance Business Law, tax regulations, and government regulations on securities and the stock market, among others.

Vietnam's legal system is undergoing continuous revisions and improvements to align with practical business needs and international integration, leading to frequent changes and uncertainties. Any regulatory modifications or delays in the implementation of legal frameworks may impact Hanoi Re's business operations.

Effective corporate governance and regulatory compliance play a crucial role in mitigating legal risks. As the company continues to grow, Hanoi Re remains committed to monitoring, updating, and adjusting its policies to adapt effectively to the evolving legal environment.

e. Market Risk

Vietnam's participation in AFTA, APEC, WTO, CPTPP, EVFTA, and the Vietnam-U.S. Trade Agreement has significantly reshaped the competitive landscape of the insurance market. The entry of foreign insurance companies introduces both opportunities and challenges for domestic insurers.

Opportunities:

- Domestic companies can leverage modern technology and advanced expertise to enhance their operations and services.

Challenges:

- Competition with foreign firms that possess extensive experience, superior technology, and strong financial resources.
- The rapid development of the domestic insurance market, leading to an increase in insurance providers and a wider range of insurance products and policies.
- Intense competition among local insurance companies to maintain market share and expand operations.

To remain competitive, Hanoi Re must continuously innovate, improve service quality, and strengthen its market positioning.

f. Operational Risk

A fundamental risk in any insurance contract is the potential for inaccurate risk assessment regarding the insured subject's level of risk, the extent of losses covered under the contract. In reinsurance contracts, risk assessment is further complicated by limitations in the quality and timeliness of information provided by Clients (ceding insurers), Loss assessors, Other reinsurance partners

This information gap can impact Hanoi Re's ability to:

- Accurately evaluate the risks it assumes
- Determine the proper liability coverage for claims

Given its significant impact, this remains one of the greatest risks in Hanoi Re's business operations.

g. Management and Human Resource Risk

Là doanh nghiệp hoạt động trong lĩnh vực bảo hiểm, cạnh tranh lớn nên quản lý và nhân sự cũng là một trong những yếu tố tác động đến hoạt động của Công ty. Nếu có chính sách cho người lao động tốt, lương và đãi ngộ tốt sẽ thu hút được cán bộ giỏi, ngược lại, Công ty sẽ gặp khó khăn khi không có lao động trình độ cao. Đây cũng là rủi ro tiềm ẩn nếu Hanoi Re không có chiến lược đúng đắn về mặt quản lý và nhân sự.

As a company operating in the highly competitive insurance industry, management and human resources play a critical role in Hanoi Re's success. Strong employee policies, competitive salaries, and attractive benefits help attract and retain top talent. Without a proper talent management strategy, Hanoi Re may face difficulties in securing skilled professionals, which could negatively impact its operations.

To mitigate this risk, Hanoi Re must implement an effective HR strategy, ensuring talent acquisition and retention, competitive compensation packages, continuous professional development and training programs.

h. Other Risks

Poor strategic planning and vision may result in ineffective market expansion. Additionally, inefficient investment activities can lead to negative consequences for capital, cash flow, and overall business performance.

Information is one of the most valuable assets for a reinsurance company. Risks such as data breaches, unauthorized modifications, data loss, or access denial can severely impact the company's operations, reputation, and strategic direction.

Reinsurance companies face unforeseeable risks, such as natural disasters and pandemics. Major catastrophic events, including large-scale natural disasters and crises, can have a significant impact on business performance due to high claim payouts, potentially leading to substantial financial losses.

5.3 Specific Risks

In addition to economic risks and legal environment risks, like other insurance companies, Hanoi Re also faces: Market risks, Operational risks, Management and human resource risks.

Source: Audited financial statements of Hanoi Re for 2023, 2024

Evaluation:

In 2024, Hanoi Re continued to closely follow its reinsurance premium revenue plan and existing underwriting and ceding policies.

The structure and proportion of reinsurance premium revenue by source were adjusted in the right direction: Non-renewal of unprofitable or high-risk contracts, More cautious approach to international reinsurance acceptance, Strengthened focus on expanding the domestic market.

In 2024, Hanoi Re's total revenue exceeded VND 3,000 billion for the first time, reaching VND 3,017.3 billion, achieving 106.6% of the target and growing 1% compared to 2023. Notably, the company recorded its highest-ever reinsurance premium revenue since its establishment, reaching VND 2,483.4 billion, fulfilling 108% of the plan and increasing 1% year-over-year.

Hanoi Re achieved a pre-tax profit of VND 240.2 billion, successfully meeting its profit target for the year.

In 2024, Hanoi Re's financial investment profit reached VND 217.6 billion, marking an 11.9% increase compared to 2023 and 115% of the planned target. This achievement resulted from the company's proactive debt collection efforts, optimized cash flow management, and enhanced investment efficiency.

However, profit from insurance operations was only VND 23.2 billion, achieving just 46% of the target, primarily due to the challenges caused by Typhoon Yagi, which led to significant catastrophe losses in 2024.

Given the business performance and profitability, Hanoi Re carried out two rounds of cash dividend payments in 2024: Second dividend payment for 2024 in August, with a payout ratio of 4.5%, first interim dividend payment for 2024 in December, with a payout ratio of 11.5%.

Insurance deposits

The Corporation is obliged to pay a deposit equal to 2% of the legal capital, the deposit shall bear interest in accordance with the agreement reached with the bank into which it is paid and the Corporation may withdraw the whole amount of their deposit upon termination of its operation. The Corporation may only use its insurance deposit to meet undertakings to purchasers of insurance when its solvency is inadequate and upon written approval of the Ministry of Finance.

Foreign currencies

Transactions arising in foreign currencies are translated at exchange rates ruling at the transaction date. The balances of monetary items denominated in foreign currencies as at the balance sheet date are retranslated at the exchange rates of commercial bank where the Corporation usually transacts on the same date. Exchange differences arising from the translation of these accounts are recognised in the income statement.

Provisions (excluding underwriting reserves)

Provisions are recognised when the Corporation has a present obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that the Corporation will be required to settle that obligation. Provisions are measured at the Board of Management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date.

Underwriting reserves

The Corporation has applied the method of making unearned premium reserve and the method of making claim reserve for incurred but not reported (IBNR) losses under approval of the Ministry of Finance in Official Letter No. 14427/BTC-QLBH dated 20 November 2018. Accordingly:

Underwriting reserves for non-life insurance

Unearned premium reserve:

- Reinsurance agreements with terms of less than or equal to 01 year

With regard to insurance for cargo transport: Unearned premium reserve for inward reinsurance is made at 25% of the inward reinsurance premium less the deductions, unearned premium reserve for outward reinsurance is made at 50% of the outward reinsurance premium.

With regard to other types of insurance: Unearned premium reserve for inward reinsurance is made at 25% of the inward reinsurance premium, unearned premium reserve for outward reinsurance is made at 50% of the outward reinsurance premium.

- Reinsurance agreements with terms of more than 01 year

Unearned premium reserves for inward reinsurance and outward reinsurance are made by a factor of period of direct policies: 1/8 method.

Claim reserve:

For losses incurred and reported, the Corporation provides for claim reserves for inward reinsurance and outward reinsurance using the statistic of retention liabilities for each estimated loss incurred and reported.

For incurred but not reported (IBNR) losses, the Corporation makes claim reserve for inward reinsurance at the rate of 5% of the inward reinsurance premium for each insurance transaction, claim reserve for outward reinsurance at the rate of 5% of the outward reinsurance premium for each insurance transaction.

Catastrophe reserve:

In accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 19 "Insurance Contract", reserve to cover the losses in the future of which the claims are not incurred and do not exist at the balance sheet date (including catastrophe reserve) is deemed unnecessary. However, following regulations of the Ministry of Finance, the Corporation's catastrophe reserve for all types of insurance services were consistently provided at 3% of the premium retained in the year. The catastrophe reserve is made until this reserve is equal to 100% of the premium retained in the year of the Corporation.

The large loss fluctuation reserve is used for insurance business with large loss fluctuation.

An insurance business is considered to have large loss fluctuation when the total retained premiums in the fiscal year of the insurance business after setting aside the unearned premium reserve and the unresolved claim reserve are not enough to pay compensation for the retained liability of the enterprise or branch for that insurance business.

Underwriting reserves for health insurance

Mathematical reserve

Mathematical reserve applied to health reinsurance agreements with terms of more than 01 year is calculated as follows:

- Regarding health reinsurance agreements which only cover death or total permanent disability: mathematical reserve is made on daily basis based on gross premium.
- For other health reinsurance agreements: The reserves are made in line with 1/8 method based on gross premium.

Unearned premium reserve:

Regarding health reinsurance agreements with terms of less than or equal to 01 year, unearned premium reserve is made at 50% of the gross premium.

Claim reserve:

For losses incurred and reported, the Corporation provides for claim reserves for inward reinsurance and outward reinsurance using the statistic of retention liabilities for each estimated loss incurred and reported.

For incurred but not reported (IBNR) losses, the Corporation makes claim reserve for inward reinsurance at the rate of 5% of the inward reinsurance premium for each insurance transaction, claim reserve for outward reinsurance at the rate of 5% of the outward reinsurance premium for each insurance transaction.

Equalization reserve:

This reserve is made at the rate of 3% of the premium retained in the year and is recorded in the balance sheet under catastrophe reserve item.

Reserves for outward reinsurance are not offset against reserves for inward reinsurance. Such reserves should be presented under separate items in the balance sheet. Accordingly, unearned premium reserve and claim reserve for inward reinsurance and catastrophe reserves are recognized as payables while unearned premium reserve for outward reinsurance and claim reserve for outward reinsurance are recognized as reinsurance assets.

Enterprise funds

The compulsory reserve fund is made at the rate of 5% of the Corporation's profit after tax until it is equal to 10% of the Corporation's charter capital.

Revenue recognition

Reinsurance premium

Inward reinsurance premium is recorded when the liability is incurred at the amount stated on the reinsurers' statement sent to the Corporation and confirmed by the Corporation.

Outward reinsurance premium is recorded at the premium amount to be ceded to the reinsurers, corresponding to the inward reinsurance premium earned in the year.

Commission income and other incomes from reinsurance activities are recorded on accrual basis. In the year, the entire commission income from outward reinsurance under outward reinsurance contracts signed in accordance with regulations of the financial regime is presented in the "Commission income from outward reinsurance" item.

At the year-end, the Corporation should determine unearned commission income from outward reinsurance corresponding to outward reinsurance premium not yet recognized this year so as to allocate such commission income to the subsequent financial years in accordance with the reserve method above.

Other revenue

Revenue from interest on bank deposits and bond investments is recognised on accrual basis.

Other revenue is recognised when the Corporation's right to receive payment has been established.

Revenue from providing insurance ancillary services is recognised when the completion of services can be measured reliably. Time to recognise revenue is the time when service provision is completed. At the reporting date, revenue is recognised on the basis of the work completed.

Expenditure recognition

Claim settlement expenses for inward reinsurance are recorded as incurred following the statement of accounts the reinsurers sent to the Corporation and when the claim is accepted by the Corporation.

Claim receipts from ceded policies are recognized based on the receivable amount incurred corresponding to the claim settlement expenses recorded in the year and the ceded ratios.

Commission expenses for inward reinsurance are recognized corresponding to inward reinsurance premium incurred in the year. In the year, the entire commission expenses for inward reinsurance under inward reinsurance contracts signed in accordance with regulations of the financial regime are presented in the "Commission expenses for inward reinsurance" item.

At the year end, the Corporation should determine commission expenses for inward reinsurance which have not been recognized as expenses for the year yet corresponding to unearned inward reinsurance premium so as to allocate such commission expenses to the subsequent financial years in accordance with the reserve method above.

Other expenses are recognized when incurred.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit before tax as reported in the income statement because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years (including loss carried forward, if any) and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible.

Deferred tax is recognised on significant differences between carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit and is accounted for using balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all temporary differences and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the liability is settled or the asset realised. Deferred tax is charged or credited to profit or loss, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority and the Corporation intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

The determination of the tax currently payable is based on the current interpretation of tax regulations. However, these regulations are subject to periodic variation and their ultimate determination depends on the results of the tax authorities' examinations.

Other taxes are paid in accordance with the prevailing tax laws in Vietnam.

Financial risk management objectives

The Corporation has set up risk management system to identify and assess the risks exposed by the Corporation and designed control policies and procedures to manage those risks at an acceptable level. Risk management system is reviewed on a regular basis to reflect changes in market conditions and the Corporation's operations.

Financial risks include reinsurance risk, market risk (including foreign currency risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

Reinsurance risk

A risk arising from any reinsurance contract is the possibility of failure to make an accurate assessment on risk levels of insurance subjects and on loss levels under reinsurance liability. The risk assessment on reinsurance acceptance and losses under the reinsurers' obligations is restricted by quality, timeliness and completeness of information investigated and provided by clients, cedants, and other partners in reinsurance activities. The Corporation manages such risks by applying the inward reinsurance strategy, setting up an appropriate rate of retained premium for each inward reinsurance type, arranging outward reinsurance activities reasonably, and actively providing compensations.

Market risk

The Corporation's activities expose it primarily to the financial risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The Corporation does not hedge these risk exposures due to limited liquidity of the market to purchase such financial instruments.

Foreign currency risk management

The Corporation undertakes certain transactions denominated in foreign currencies; consequently, exposures to exchange rate fluctuations arise.

The carrying amounts of the Corporation's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the year are as follows:

Foreign currency sensitivity analysis

The Corporation is mainly exposed to United States Dollar, Euro, British Pound, South Korean Won and Indian Rupee.

The following table details the Corporation's sensitivity to a 2% increase and decrease in Vietnam Dong against the relevant foreign currencies. 2% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding

Credit risk

Credit risk refers to the risk that counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Corporation. The Corporation has a credit policy in place and the exposure to credit risk is monitored on an on-going basis. The Corporation business operation is reinsurance, accordingly, the Corporation is mainly exposed to credit risks from clients operating in direct insurance business.

Liquidity risk management

The purpose of liquidity risk management is to ensure the availability of funds to meet present and future financial obligations. Liquidity is also managed by ensuring that the excess of maturing liabilities over maturing assets in any year is kept to manageable levels relative to the amount of funds that the Corporation believes can generate within that year. The Corporation's policy is to regularly monitor current and expected liquidity requirements to ensure that the Corporation maintains sufficient reserves of cash and adequate committed funding from its owners to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and longer terms.

The following tables detail the Corporation's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial assets and financial liabilities with agreed repayment years. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial assets and undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Corporation can be required to pay. The inclusion of information on non-derivative financial assets is necessary in order to understand the Corporation's liquidity risk management as the liquidity is managed on a net asset and liability basis.
