railways, tunnels, and metro systems - key structures serving the development of transportation and smart urban areas.

- Continue focusing on controlling and optimizing production costs with competitive pricing based on the principles of ensuring quality, progress, aesthetics, and appropriate profit margins.

- With the orientation towards changes in the new management system to improve production capacity, along with existing advantages in equipment and human resources, the Group will continue to develop its brand and build the image of a professional contractor and reputable general contractor.

b) For real estate activities:

- In 2025, we recognize that we are facing many opportunities and challenges in a constantly changing market that requires agility and high adaptability. Therefore, the Board of Directors has set out specific orientations as follows:

- For ongoing projects: Focus on completing legal procedures, infrastructure construction investment work, and financial obligations to ensure conditions for sales.

- With the mission of being “A creator of living environments in harmony with nature,” special attention will be given to the ecological, luxury, and unique segments. Dat Phuong will not only expand in scale but also create high-end projects, thereby diversifying and enriching its investment portfolio.

- Focus on conducting market research and project analysis, and hiring reputable, well-branded consultants to develop master plans and design projects.

c) For energy sector activities:

Continue to perform well in maintenance, servicing, and forecasting in order to optimize the efficiency of ongoing operational projects.

d) For hotel and service sector activities:

- Focus on implementing hotel construction according to the planned schedule.

e) For the investment in the ultra-clear glass manufacturing plant in Thua Thien Hue:

- This is a new business area for the Company and also marks the first enterprise in Vietnam to invest in ultra-clear patterned glass products with thickness ranging from 1.8mm to 8mm. Therefore, the Company focuses on researching and seeking domestic and international entities that have been investing and constructing in the same field of laminated glass production, while also connecting with specialized equipment suppliers for this technology line in order to select the most optimal technology line for the project. Up to

- To build a diverse and efficient Dat Phuong ecosystem, the Board of Directors continues to study and expand investment into several new potential sectors related to essential needs and certain production fields applying high technology.

6. Risks:

The Company faces a number of risks that may affect its business performance as follows:

- Economic risks: The core operations of DPG are affected by fluctuations in both the domestic and global economies. Adverse developments can lead to economic recession, inflation, exchange rate volatility, and credit tightening, resulting in reduced income and lower consumer demand, thereby negatively impacting the Company's business performance. To minimize the impact of these factors, DPG focuses on thorough preparation and contingency planning for changes in the economic and market conditions, strengthening its financial capacity, and building sustainable relationships with DPG's customers, suppliers, and financial institutions.

- Financial risk: This is the risk arising from receivables from customers. The suspension of capital allocation for projects under construction and the prolonged waiting for payment procedures lead to the Company being unable to immediately collect debts from the Investor.

- Market and input material risks: This risk is related to price increases and scarcity of input materials, fierce competition among businesses in the same industry, which increasingly puts great pressure on businesses.

- Industry-specific risks: For construction activities, there may be risks of unforeseen geological conditions, poor construction management and survey measures, inexperienced contractors, and major changes in design that cause the project's progress to be prolonged, negatively affecting the project's cash flow. For commercial electricity production and trading activities: the impact of weather factors (drought or flood both affect electricity generation output and revenue). Electricity prices are adjusted by the price list issued annually by the Ministry of Industry and Trade, so they directly affect the efficiency of this business activity.

- Brand risk: Brand is an intangible asset of special value in the construction, power generation and real estate industries. Brand risk is the loss or damage in value due to changes in customers' perceptions of the Company, which can greatly affect the demand for products and services, as well as the overall operations of the Company. In particular, information risks can negatively affect the Company's reputation, reduce the trust of customers, shareholders, partners, and the community in the Company, and lead to financial losses.

- Compliance risk: Is the risk that the company must face in case the company or its employees violate or do not comply with the provisions of the law, regulations in the company charter, violate internal regulations, business processes, regulations, including regulations on professional ethics.

Preventing and mitigating compliance risks is considered an important task of the Company. Some measures taken by the Company to prevent compliance risks include:

+ Design processes and operating systems with regular inspection and control to promptly detect possible violations.

+ Raising awareness of compliance among employees. Training and dissemination of compliance are emphasized. Newly recruited employees are trained and informed about general procedures, regulations and special regulations related to their work. During their time working at DPG, employees are periodically trained to understand the work process and raise awareness of compliance. Establish an internal inspection and monitoring system.

+ Apply strict discipline to violations of Company regulations.

- Legal risks: Dat Phuong operates under the Enterprise Law, Securities Law and related documents. Therefore, changes and additions to these documents have a direct impact on the business operations. Legal risks include risks related to compliance with the provisions of those documents. The Company regularly updates documents, regimes and policies of the State related to the stock market and related fields to ensure implementation in accordance with the provisions of the law.

II. PERFORMANCE IN THE YEAR

- In that situation, the Board of Directors (BOD) advocates approaching and bidding for projects that are being prioritized by the Government for capital allocation, focusing on closely following the business plan approved by the Resolution of the 2024 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders.
