Note: The Company purchased shares of Nguyen Viet Business and Construction Investment Joint Stock Company (Nguyen Viet Company) representing 88% of its charter capital. As of December 25, 2025, Easterns AHP Minerals Joint Stock Company officially became the parent company of Nguyen Viet Company.

In the separate financial statements for the first 6 months of 2026, total revenue increased compared to the first 6 months of 2025 due to an increase in revenue from trading finished goods and merchandise, leading to higher profit after corporate income tax for the first 6 months of 2026 compared to the first 6 months of 2025.

Profit after tax for the first 6 months of 2026 in the consolidated financial statements increased compared to the same period because on December 25, 2025, Nguyen Viet Company officially became a subsidiary of AHP Company; the comparative figure with the current period is the unconsolidated figure for the first 6 months of 2025 from the Parent Company's financial statements.

The Company hereby provides the above explanation of the reasons for the difference in profit after corporate income tax for the first six months of 2026 compared to the first six months of 2025

Respectfully!

REVIEW REPORT ON THE INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

To: Shareholders
The Board of Directors and Board of Management
Easterns AHP Minerals Joint Stock Company

We have reviewed the accompanying separate interim financial statements of Easterns AHP Minerals Joint Stock Company ("the Company") prepared on 28/08/2026, as set out from page 04 to page 38, which comprise the interim statement of financial position as at 30/06/2026 and the interim income statement, interim cash flows statement for the period from 01/01/2026 to 30/06/2026 and the notes to separate interim financial statements.

Management's Responsibility

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the separate interim financial statements in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, Corporate Accounting System and the relevant statutory requirements applicable to the preparation and presentation of interim financial statements and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of separate interim financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these separate interim financial statements based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Vietnamese Standards on Review Engagements 2410 - Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity.

A review of separate interim financial statements consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Vietnamese Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Auditors' Conclusion

Based in our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying separate interim financial statements does not give a true and fair view of, in all material respects, the financial position of Easterns AHP Minerals Joint Stock Company as at 30/06/2026, and of the results of its operations and its cash flows the period from 01/01/2026 to 30/06/2026, in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, Corporate Accounting System and the relevant statutory requirements applicable to the preparation and presentation of interim financial statements.

This Circular is effective for the financial year beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Circular 99 replaces the regulations on the Corporate Accounting System issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC by the Ministry of Finance on 22 December 2014.

The separate financial statements for the period from 01/01/2026 to 30/06/2026 are prepared in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 27 - Interim Financial Reporting and regulations on information disclosure in the securities market.

4. APPLICABLE ACCOUNTING POLICIES, ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES, AND RELEVANT LEGAL REGULATIONS*4.1. Basis of preparation of financial statements

The separate financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis (except for the information related to cash flows), under historical cost principle, based on the assumption of going concern.

The Company's financial statements have been translated into English from the Vietnamese versions published in Vietnam.

4.2. Cash and cash equivalent

Cash reflects the total amount of money held by the Company as of the end of the accounting period, including cash on hand, demand deposits, and cash in transit.

Cash equivalents represent short-term investments with a maturity of no more than three months from the date of acquisition that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value at the reporting date. These are recognized in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 24 - Statement of Cash Flows.

4.3. Capital Investments in Other EntitiesInvestments in Subsidiaries

These reflect investments where the Company holds more than 50% of the voting rights and has control over the financial policies and operations of the investee (subsidiary) to obtain economic benefits from its activities. Alternatively, the Company may hold less than 50% of the voting rights but has an agreement that allows:

- Other investors to agree to grant the Company more than 50% of the voting rights;
- The Company to have control over financial policies and operations per the agreement;
- The Company to appoint or dismiss the majority of the Board of Directors or equivalent management;
- The Company to have the majority of votes at meetings of the Board of Directors or equivalent management.

Investment in Associates

This represents investments in entities in which the Company directly or indirectly holds from 20% to less than 50% of the voting rights, without any other agreements in place.

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence but does not have control over its financial and operating policies. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but not to control those policies.

Investments in Other Entities

These are investments in equity instruments where the Company does not have control, joint control, or significant influence over the investee.

Recognition of Capital Investments in Other Entities

Capital investments in other entities are initially recognized at cost, which includes the purchase price or contribution amount plus any directly related investment costs (if any), such as brokerage fees, transaction fees, consulting fees, auditing fees, taxes, and bank charges. In cases of investment using non-monetary assets, the investment amount is recognized at the fair value of the non-monetary asset at the time of occurrence.

Long-term financial investments are recognized at the time the Company officially obtains ownership rights, specifically as follows:

- Listed securities are recognized at the order matching date (T+0);
- Unlisted securities and other forms of investments are recognized when official ownership rights are obtained in accordance with applicable laws.

Dividends and profits from periods before the investment is purchased are accounted for as a reduction in the value of the investment. Dividends and profits from periods after the investment is purchased are recognized as finance income at fair value on the date the right to receive them arises. For dividends received in shares, the Company only tracks the increase in the number of shares in the financial statement notes and does not recognize an increase in the investment's value or finance income.

Allowance for losses on investments in subsidiaries, associates, and other equity investments represent the amount by which the cost exceeds the market value of the investment or the Company's share according to the investee's accounting records, established in accordance with the prevailing corporate accounting system.

4.4. Receivables and allowance for doubtful debt

Receivables are monitored in detail of the original terms, remaining terms at the reporting date, the receivable objects and other factors for the Company's managerial purpose. The classification of receivables is trade receivables; other receivables shall comply with the principles:

- Receivables from customers include commercial receivables arising from buying and selling transactions;
- Other receivables include non-commercial receivables unrelated to buying and selling transactions.

Receivables are recognized at an amount not exceeding their recoverable value. An allowance for doubtful accounts is established for receivables that are overdue for more than six months or for receivables from debtors who are unlikely to pay due to liquidation, bankruptcy, or other similar difficulties, in accordance with the prevailing corporate accounting system.

4.5. InventoriesOrdinary inventories

Inventory is valued at cost; however, if the cost is greater than the net realizable value, the inventory is valued at its net realizable value. Cost comprises cost of purchase, cost of convention and other costs that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. The net realizable value is estimated as the estimated selling price less estimated costs to complete and the estimated costs necessary to sell the inventories. Inventories are accounted for using the perpetual inventory method.

The cost of inventories is determined using the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method.

The Company's work in progress represents construction stone extraction costs that have not completed processing for warehousing at the end of the accounting period, including explosive material costs and other related expenses. The cost of finished goods entering the warehouse is calculated using the simple costing method.

Real estate inventories

Real estate that is purchased or developed for sale or long-term lease, which meets the conditions for recognizing revenue during the Company's normal business activities, and not for leasing or holding for appreciation, is recorded as inventory at the lower of cost to bring each product to its current position and condition, and net realizable value.

The cost of real estate inventories includes land use fees, land rental fees and other taxes, construction costs paid to contractors, and other related expenses, such as interest expenses, design consulting fees, site clearance and compensation costs, general construction management expenses, and other related costs.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of the inventory in the ordinary course of business, based on market value at the reporting date, minus the estimated costs of completion and estimated selling expenses.

Allowance for devaluation of inventories

Allowance for devaluation of inventories is the difference when the cost of inventories exceeds their net realizable value at the end of the accounting period, which is recognized in accordance with the regulations of the prevailing Corporate accounting system.

4.6. Tangible Fixed assets and Depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are presented at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of tangible fixed assets is determined based on the original cost.

The cost of tangible fixed assets arising from purchases and construction for transfer includes the purchase price and all other directly related costs necessary to bring the asset to a condition and location for use. The cost of tangible fixed assets built or self-constructed includes construction costs, actual production costs incurred, as well as installation and testing costs.

Subsequent costs are added to the asset's cost if they improve the asset's current condition compared to its original standard state, such as:

- Replacing parts of the tangible fixed asset that extend its useful life or increase its operational capacity; or
- Improving parts of the tangible fixed asset that significantly enhance the quality of the products produced; or
- Implementing a new production technology that reduces the operating costs of the asset compared to before.

Costs incurred for repairs and maintenance aimed at restoring or maintaining the asset's ability to generate economic benefits according to its original standard operating condition, which do not meet any of the above conditions, are recognized as production and business expenses in the period incurred.

Depreciation of fixed assets is calculated using the straight-line method based on the estimated useful life of the asset, in accordance with the depreciation framework stipulated in Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC dated 25 April 2013, by the Ministry of Finance. The specific depreciation periods for various types of fixed assets are as follows:

| Types of assets                   | Years |
|------------------------------------------|--------------|
| Buildings and structures                 | 05 - 11      |
| Machinery and equipment                  | 05 - 12      |
| Transportation and transmission vehicles | 06 - 10      |
| Office equipment                         | 03 - 05      |

Gains or losses arising from the disposal or sale of assets are determined as the difference between the proceeds from disposal and the remaining carrying amount of the assets and are recognized in the Statement of Profit or Loss.

4.7. Intangible Fixed assets and Amorization

Intangible fixed assets are presented at their original cost less accumulated depreciation. The original cost of intangible fixed assets is determined at their purchase price.

The Company's intangible fixed assets consist of computer software, which is amortized using the straight-line method over a period of 8 years.

4.8. Finance Lease Assets

Leasing an asset is classified as a finance lease when the majority of the rights and risks of ownership of the asset are transferred to the lessee. Ownership of the asset may be transferred at the end of the lease term.

The Company recognizes the leased asset at its fair value at the lease inception date or at the present value of the minimum lease payments (if this value is lower than the fair value), plus any direct costs incurred initially related to the finance lease. The corresponding lease liability is recognized on the balance sheet as a finance lease liability. Lease payments are divided into financial expenses and principal repayment to ensure a fixed periodic interest rate on the outstanding liability balance. The financial lease expenses are recognized in the profit and loss statement, unless these costs directly result in the leased asset being created, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Company's accounting policy on borrowing costs.

Finance leased assets are depreciated using the straight-line method based on the estimated useful life in accordance with the regulations of Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC by the Ministry of Finance, which guides the management, use, and depreciation of fixed assets.

The Company's finance leased asset are 03 stone crushing lines with a capacity of 400 tons per hour, with a depreciation period from 140 month to 144 months (12 years).

4.9. Investment Property

The Company's investment property consists of three houses located at the UNI-TOWN Commercial Area in the Binh Duong Industrial-Service-Urban Complex. These properties are owned by the Company and are held for the capital appreciation.

Investment properties held for appreciation are presented at their cost, less any impairment losses. The cost of investment property includes all cash or cash-equivalent expenditures made by the company or the fair value of other considerations exchanged to acquire the investment property, up to the point of purchase or completion of construction.

Costs related to investment properties incurred after initial recognition are expensed, unless such costs are certain to increase the future economic benefits beyond the originally assessed level, in which case they are added to the cost of the property.

Investment properties held for appreciation are not depreciated. If there is concrete evidence that the investment property has decreased in value compared to the market value and the decline can be reliably measured, the carrying amount of the investment property is reduced, and the loss is recognized in the cost of goods sold.

4.10. Construction in progress

The construction in progress is recorded at cost, including expenses directly related to (including borrowing costs by the Company's accounting policy) properties in the course of construction for production, equipment installed for the purpose of manufacturing, rental and management as well as related expenses to repairs of fixed assets.

4.11. Deferred expenses

Deferred expenses include actual costs incurred that relate to the operating results of multiple accounting periods. These expenses comprise mineral exploitation rights fees, the value of tools and equipment put into use, and other costs expected to provide future economic benefits to the Company. Specifically:

- Mineral exploitation rights fees: These fees are determined based on the amount paid as per Decision No. 1782/QĐ-UBND dated June 21, 2019, issued by the People's Committee of Binh Duong Province, approving the mineral exploitation rights fees for the Rach Rat construction stone mine in An Binh Commune, Phu Giao District, Binh Duong Province and Decision No. 745/QĐ-UBND dated March 27, 2024, approving the supplementary mineral exploitation license fee for the Rach Rat construction stone mine. The fees are amortized over the extraction period specified in the mining license.
- Value of tools and equipment put into use: The Company amortizes these assets using the straight-line method over a maximum period of one year for short-term deferred expenses and a maximum of three years for long-term deferred expenses.

The Company classifies deferred expenses as short-term or long-term based on the allocation period of each cost category and does not reclassify them at the time of reporting.

4.12. Payables

Payables are tracked in detail according to the original terms, remaining term at the reporting date, payee, and other management needs of the company. Payables are classified into trade payables and other payables as follows:

- Accounts payable to suppliers include amounts payable arising from trade transactions related to buying and selling activities;
- Other payables include amounts that are non-commercial and not related to the purchase, sale, or provision of goods and services.

Liabilities are recognized at no less than the amounts due for payment. When there is evidence indicating the likelihood of a loss, the Company immediately recognizes a liability following the principle of prudence.

4.13. Dividends and profit payable

This represents cash dividends payable to the Company's shareholders. The timing for recognizing dividends payable is when the Company has no right to refuse dividend payments, based on the regulations of securities law. Dividends payables are recognized immediately upon approval by the Resolution of the Company's General Meeting of Shareholders.

4.14. Loans and finance lease liabilities

The Company's borrowings and finance lease liabilities include both loans and finance lease debts.

These borrowings and liabilities are tracked in detail by the lender, debtor, loan agreement, type of asset borrowed or leased, and the repayment terms of the borrowings and finance lease liabilities. Borrowings and finance lease liabilities with a repayment term exceeding 12 months from the reporting date are classified as "Long-term borrowings and finance lease liabilities." Borrowings and liabilities due for repayment within the next 12 months from the reporting date are classified as "Short-term borrowings and finance lease liabilities."

4.15. Borrowing cost

Borrowing costs include interest on loans and other costs directly related to borrowings.

Borrowing costs are recognized as expenses in the period incurred, except for borrowing costs directly related to the investment, construction, or production of assets under construction that require a long period (over 12 months) to be ready for intended use or sale, which are included in the asset's value (capitalized) when all conditions specified in Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 16 - Borrowing Costs are met. Contractors do not capitalize interest expenses when borrowing to finance the construction of works or assets for clients, including in the case of specific loans.

For general loans used for investment or construction purposes, the amount of borrowing costs capitalized is determined based on the capitalization rate applied to the weighted average accumulated costs incurred for the investment or construction of the asset.

The capitalization rate is calculated based on the weighted average interest rate of loans outstanding during the period, excluding specific loans for forming a particular asset.

4.16. Accrued Expenses

Accrued expenses are recognized based on reasonable estimates of the amounts payable for goods or services that have been used during the period, but for which invoices have not been received or adequate supporting documents are unavailable. This includes interest expenses and other similar costs.

4.17. Provision for payables

Provisions for payables are recognized only when the following conditions are met:

- The Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event;
- It is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and
- A reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions for payables are recognized based on the best reasonable estimate of the amount required to settle the present obligation as of the end of the accounting period.

4.18. Owners' Equity

Share premium reflects the difference between the issue price and the par value of shares; the difference between the reacquisition price and the reissuance price of treasury shares; the value of the conversion option component of convertible bonds at maturity; and costs directly attributable to the issuance of shares.

Funds and retained earnings are established and distributed according to the Resolution of the General Meeting of Shareholders.

4.19. Revenue and other income

Revenue is recognized when the results of the transaction can be reliably determined, and the Company is likely to receive economic benefits from the transaction.

- The company has transferred the majority of risks and benefits associated with ownership of the products or goods to the buyer;
- The company no longer retains control over the goods as the owner or has control over the goods;
- Revenue can be reliably measured. When a contract allows the buyer to return purchased products under specific conditions, the company can only recognize revenue when those specific conditions no longer exist and the buyer does not have the right to return the products (except when the customer has the right to exchange goods for other goods or services);
- The company has or will receive economic benefits from the sales transaction;

- Related costs of the sales transaction can be determined.

Service Revenue is recognized when the following conditions are met:

- The revenue amount can be measured reliably. If the contract allows the buyer to return the purchased service under specific conditions, revenue can only be recognized when such conditions no longer exist and the buyer no longer has the right to return the service provided;
- The company has received or will receive the economic benefits from the service transaction;
- The portion of the service completed at the reporting date can be determined;
- Costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the service transaction can be measured reliably.

Construction Contract Revenue

Construction contracts specify that the contractor is paid based on the value of work completed. When the outcome of the construction contract can be reliably measured and is approved by the customer, revenue and expenses related to the contract are recognized in proportion to the completed work confirmed by the customer during the year.

Real estate Revenue is recognized when the following conditions are met:

- The real estate is fully completed and handed over to the buyer, and the company has transferred the risks and benefits associated with ownership to the buyer;

- The revenue amount can be measured reliably;
- The company has received or will receive the economic benefits from the real estate transaction;
- Costs related to the real estate transaction can be reliably determined.

Financial income includes interest income from deposits and loans, dividends, profits distributed, payment discounts, and other financial income.

Other income reflects amounts arising from events or transactions that are distinct from the company's normal business activities, outside the aforementioned revenue categories.

4.20. Cost of sales

Cost of goods sold is recognized as actually incurred in accordance with the matching principle with revenue, comprising: the cost of finished goods, merchandise, and services sold; the manufacturing cost of construction products sold during the period; provision for decline in value of inventories; inventory shortages and losses (net of compensations, if any); and abnormal amounts of wasted direct materials, labor, and unallocated fixed production overheads (net of compensations, if any) even when the products or goods have not been recognized as sold.

4.21. Selling expenses and General and Administration expenses

Selling expenses reflect actual costs incurred during the period in the process of selling products, merchandise, and providing services, including: transportation costs and other expenses, ...

General and administration expenses reflect the general management costs of the Company incurred within the accounting period, comprising: salary expenses for administrative personnel (salaries, wages, allowances, etc.); trade union fees, social insurance, health insurance, and unemployment insurance for administrative staff; office supplies and tools; depreciation of fixed assets used for administrative purposes; land rental; allowance for doubtful debts; externally purchased services; and other expenses, etc.

Selling expenses and general and administration expenses are reduced upon the reversal of provisions.

4.22. Taxes

Corporate income tax includes current income tax and deferred income tax.

Current income tax expense reflects the corporate income tax payable incurred during the year and the additional tax payable due to the discovery of immaterial errors from prior years. Current income tax income reflects reductions in corporate income tax payable due to the discovery of immaterial errors from prior years.

Deferred income tax expense reflects the difference when the reversal of deferred income tax assets during the year exceeds the recognition of deferred income tax assets or when deferred income tax liabilities recognized during the year exceed their reversal. Deferred income tax income reflects the difference when deferred income tax assets recognized during the year exceed their reversal or when the reversal of deferred income tax liabilities exceeds the amount recognized during the year.

Deferred income tax is calculated based on the temporary differences between the carrying amounts and the taxable bases of assets or liabilities presented in the financial statements, as well as unused tax losses and tax incentives. Deferred income tax liabilities must be recognized for all temporary differences. Deferred income tax assets are recognized only when it is probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available in the future to offset these temporary differences.

Deferred income tax is determined using the tax rates expected to apply in the year when the assets are recovered or liabilities are settled. Deferred income tax is recognized in the statement of income, except where it relates to items recognized directly in equity. In such cases, the deferred income tax is also recognized directly in equity.

Deferred income tax assets and deferred income tax liabilities are offset when the Company has a legal right to offset current income tax assets against current income tax liabilities, and when the deferred income tax assets and liabilities relate to corporate income tax managed by the same tax authority and the Company intends to settle on a net basis.

Taxable income may differ from the total accounting profit before tax presented in the statement of income because taxable income excludes taxable revenues or deductible expenses from other years (including carryforward losses, if any) and excludes non-taxable revenues or non-deductible expenses.

The determination of the Company's income tax is based on prevailing tax regulations. However, these regulations are subject to change over time, and the determination of corporate income tax liabilities depends on the results of examinations conducted by competent tax authorities.

Other taxes are applied in accordance with the prevailing tax laws in Vietnam.
